ABSTRACT

This report presents the December 1, 1995 special education data collected annually by the state of Maryland as part of the state's Special Services Information System. Information is compiled on special education students ages 3-21 in all 24 local education agencies and state operated programs. Definitions of key terms used to classify student placements precede the data tables. The total number of students with disabilities served in Maryland is reported to be 100,863. Tables include information by agency on the number of children with disabilities served, broken down by the following factors: disability, age, grade, intensity, ethnicity, gender, and placement in the least restrictive environment. Pie charts illustrate the percentage of special education students by disability and the placement of special education students. A graph indicates the percentage of special education students by grade. (CR)

Introduction

Annually, on December 1, the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) collects information on special education students (ages 3-21) who reside in the State of Maryland. In order to be included in this count, the child must be identified as having a disability and have active special education services on December 1.

The December 1, 1995 data collection was expanded to include several new data elements.

The Special Services Information System (SSIS) consists of two separate data collections. The first is the December 1 Census, a count of all students receiving special education services on December 1 of every year. The second data collection is done June 30 of every year and reports students who have exited special education. Additional special education data publications are available from the Division of Planning, Results and Information Management (PRIM) upon request (contact Sally Slade at 767-0063).

The SSIS database is used to compile information on Maryland students with disabilities. MSDE uses the SSIS database as:

- a source of information to meet its planning, monitoring, and accounting responsibilities for special education;
- a recording and reporting tool for decisions made by the Admission, Review and Dismissal Committee; and
- an instrument for federal reporting requirements.*

The data which follow were collected from all 24 local education agencies and state operated programs. This census serves as a point in time snapshot of special education students on December 1, 1995.

*Required by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), which amended P.L. 94-142, as well as reporting requirements for Title VI and Title IX of the Civil Rights Act, as the Titles apply to Special Education, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.
